SOLD PIECES

I started painting as a way to process during my recovery after the skull reconstructions. Painting brought me some peace during all of the health chaos. It was the coping mechanism I needed at the time. It's what kept me afloat. Here are some sold examples to familiarize yourself with my dream style.

MEDIUMS

Each painting sold has been painted in acrylics, oils, which are often layered with other paints like watercolors and gouache.

Every painting is on stretched canvas, and comes with a personally signed banknote on the back of every painting.

SOLD PIECES

Each of the dream paintings is a mixture of Post-Impressionist, Expressionist and Abstract art styles. I began experimenting with these styles to show motion and movement in my paintings. The paintings are inspired by specific recovery dreams that I share with the buyer of each unique piece.

COLOR WAR

"Color War" is an abstract miniseries of 4 paintings dealing with the feelings of losing one's homeland due to war. Inspired by the ongoing conflicts in Ukraine, this hyperpersonal theme shows the agony through explosive abstract 30"x40" paintings. Sold pieces will come in floating golden frames and come as a set to brighten up your home or business. These 4 Color War pieces are priced $10,000.
